Vice Mayor Manny Martinez, City of Glendale June 20, 2008

Tips to Help Overcome Seasonal Heat. Whether you're a new resident to the Valley or a native, everyone needs to stay alert to the dangers of the high seasonal temperatures. The city of Glendale offers the following tips to stay safe from heat-related illnesses:

- Do your daily exercise early, as well as yard work and avoid being outside during the hours between 11 a.m. and 6 p.m.
- Drink plenty of water before, during and after any outside activity. Stay hydrated.
- Limit soda, caffeine and alcohol during any outside activity.
- Wear a hat and apply sunscreen to prevent sunburn.
- Never leave children or pets inside of an unattended vehicle.
- Become familiar with the symptoms of heat exhaustion, which includes nausea, general weakness, dizziness, and body cramps. Cooling off, preferably indoors and re-hydrating your body may relieve this condition.
- Signs and symptoms of heat stroke are hot flushed skin, dizziness, nausea, cramps. Moving to unconsciousness is a much more serious condition and may require immediate medical attention.

Glendale is offering several key facilities in the event of a "Heat Warning," as declared by the National Weather Service. If the temperatures reach this level, refuge and hydration can be found at the following sites:

- O'Neil Community, 6448 W. Missouri Ave.
- Glendale Adult Center, 5970 W. Brown St.
- Foothills Library, 19055 N. 57th Ave.
- Velma Teague Library, 7010 N. 58th Ave

For more information on the city's response during a "Heat Warning," call Glendale's Emergency Management Department at (623) 872-5000. Click here and scroll to the bottom of the story for a county map of hydration stations and refuge spots.

New Glendale Boards and Commissions Members. Congratulations to the following Cholla District residents who were recently appointed to serve on advisory boards or commissions! Enid Spear – Arts Commission and Mike Nave (chair) – Citizens Advisory Commission on Neighborhoods.

Glendale's 18 Boards and Commissions assist the City Council in making important policy decisions that impact the community in many ways. These volunteer citizen advisory groups research, study and discuss issues, then forward their recommendations to the Council. If you are interested in serving, click here to fill out an online application or view a description of each advisory board. Call (623) 930-2814 to receive the information by mail.
