Meet and Greet at the Gas Light Inn on Wednesday, March 14th from 6 to 8 p.m.

The Glendale Civic Pride Ambassadors (GCPA) are looking for new members and will be hosting a Meet and Greet at the Gas Light Inn on Wednesday, March 14th from 6 to 8 p.m. to provide local residents, business owners and downtown merchants with the opportunity to find out all the Ambassadors do in the community. Several GCPA members will be at the Gas Light Inn, located at 5747 W. Glendale Avenue to share their experiences as members and answer questions about the organization.

The Ambassadors have been volunteering in Glendale for the past 17 years. You may know them from seeing them in their red shirts in the beverage booths and in and around Murphy Park at Glendale Special Events. From working these booths, the Ambassadors have been able to raise over $260,000 that they have awarded to other nonprofits to assist them with special activities and projects that fit the GCPA mission to promote and enhance the economic and social welfare of Glendale and surrounding area residents, including military families at Luke Air Force Base. More recently, they have formed the GCPA Foundation, a 501(c)(3), which has begun raising additional funds to increase the Ambassadors' opportunities to give back to the community.

Over the years, the Ambassadors have been involved in a number of community projects, including a Habitat for Humanity house. They are currently planning what is hoped to be an annual fundraiser in late April for Glendale's "other" ranch, Manistee Ranch, located at 51st and Northern avenues.

No matter what the Ambassadors are doing, their motto is to always have fun. If you would like to consider being a part of this active fun-loving volunteer group, make plans to drop by the Gas Light Inn to visit and enjoy a beverage with them. The Gas Light Inn is also a great community partner. If you haven't been there yet, this is the time to check it out. For more information about the Ambassadors, visit their website at www.glendalecivicpride.org.
